Scott County CAFOs

- *Farms holding 1000 Animal Units are required to fill out and submit a Master Matrix
- *30% of CAFOs in Scott County (see highlighted below) fall just below that threshold avoiding the need to fill out a Master Matrix sidestepped the recommendation of the county before constructing

Letter To the Scott County Board of Supervisors:

Agriculture has been and will continue to be a huge part of Iowa's identity. Ever since the Master Matrix was adopted by the Iowa State Legislature in 2002, Scott County has passed the construction evaluation resolution every year, without fail, by the deadline of January 31. Thank you for continuing to pass this year after year.

Even though lowa's laws on animal agriculture place most of the authority with the State's DNR rather than with county government, we feel that signing on to the construction evaluation resolution yearly keeps us informed of applications that are filed within our county and gives you as county supervisors, and ourselves as county residents, an opportunity to weigh in on proposed CAFOs. Because, as with other issues within the county, staying involved locally is very important.

However, we feel that the Master Matrix construction evaluation only encourages the bare minimum and does not go far enough to protect our communities, soil, water, air, or quality of life. And so, we, residents of Scott County, are asking you to pass an additional resolution petitioning the Governor of Iowa and the Iowa State Legislature to address the failings of the Master Matrix and grant counties stronger authority in the decision making and accountability of CAFO operations.

The Master Matrix lacks the ability to:

- Protect communities due to lax separation distances. Recent examples of this are CAFOs that were either built or expanded near the communities of Maysville and McCausland. Rural communities are also responsible for increased wear and tear on secondary roads and bridges from semi use.
- Evaluate the impact of the local karst topography of eastern lowa and the fields being spread with liquid manure. This directly impacts the soil's ability to absorb the nutrients from the manure. The excess nutrients run off into our waterways putting them in danger of elevated bacteria and nitrates.
- Address CAFO applications that fall under the threshold of needing a Master Matrix scoring altogether.
 This is a loophole that allows applicants to avoid accountability and sidestep the approval of the county before constructing.

Scott County has numerous impaired waterways as described in the latest DNR report: Duck Creek, Silver Creek, Robin Creek, Candlelight Creek, Goose Creek, Pheasant Creek, Stafford Creek, Crow Creek, Spencer Creek, Lost Creek, Princeton Refuge, West Lake, Wapsipinicon River, Mud Creek Tributary near Walcott, and the Mississippi River are all impaired. Scott County also has 877 contaminated private wells. There are several programs in place already to improve the quality of water in Scott County, but there needs to be higher accountability to protect the success rate of these programs.

The Master Matrix construction evaluation drafted almost 20 years ago, simply does not go far enough to protect our communities, soil, water, air, or quality of life and needs to be re-evaluated. It is a pass-fail test that is no substitute for local control. We ask that you pass an additional resolution petitioning the Governor of lowa and the lowa State Legislature to address the failings of the Master Matrix and grant counties stronger authority in the decision making and accountability of CAFO operations.

Respectfully,

Scott Co Residents
